East Rand came to a standstill last Saturday, 22nd September when Soul Candi teamed up with Splakavellis Management to host the Spring Fiesta. The event was held at the Wild Waters Complex in Boksburg. With four stages and over 40 artists it makes sense why there were thousands of people present. People came out in numbers to support the event. I got there a bit early so I could witness some of the artists performances. As usual the crowd never disappoint on the dance floor.

So I was there to witness the Spring Fiesta featuring international guests The Layabouts with on vocals Imani, Reel People and UPZ aka Avi Elman.

Before I get carried away can we kindly ask Soul Candi to reconsider their line-up next time? Don't get me wrong it was a great line-up but we could do with more female artists. What happened at the What About Soul Stage? We hope you guys are looking into it as Culoe De Song's fans were disappointed.

Should I touch on the drinks issue? Okay well, it seems like people didn't like the idea of drinks running out early or was it to promote the "Don't drink and drive" campaign? I don't know but hope you are looking into it.

The Spring Fiesta is a good place to network especially if you are on the VVIP section where the drinks never run out. Well knowing me, the liker of things I didn't waste time chatting to the friendly and the so unfriendly celebs..Oops did I say unfriendly? Either way im not complaining, we are just different as people.

Chatting up with a few familiar faces, this is what they had to say about the event.

DJ Claude "I had a lot of fun today, everything is just perfect"

Miggs "This has to be the best event for the year 2012"

UPZ "everything just went the way I had expected it, I loved the crowd more especially"

Bonang Matheba "I love the people and I love everything about it"

Truth be told, this has to be the best spring event to hit S.A and if you were absent this year please make sure you are there next year, wait...there is going to be a next year, right? Despite the few hiccups that came through I think most of you will agree that fun was the order of the day. All the sponsors involved in making the event a success really outdid themselves. So can we give credit where it is due, more especially to the organizer Sheree O'Brien who spent most of her day doing damage control. It sure wasn't easy putting up an event like that. We just hope your head is still in one piece though.
